FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

November 1, 2014

David Kamp, FASLA, LF, NA speaks on “Designing Nature into Urban Healthcare Environments”

New York, NY – November 1, 2014 – David Kamp, FASLA, LF, NA and Principal of Dirtworks, PC will speak at Healthcare Design 2014 on November 17, 2014 in San Diego, CA. Healthcare Design 2014 is a four-day, multi-faceted learning and networking experience focused on the delivery and discussion of innovations in healthcare facilities now and into the future.

Together with Andrew Jarvis, AIA, LEED AP and Principal at EwingCole, David Kamp will share successful strategies for justifying the value of natural environments within densely developed healthcare settings and will show how the obstacles of cost, space, maintenance, and infection control may be overcome.

“At Dirtworks, we have seen the transformative effect of nature in the healthcare setting. The decisions we make now will undoubtedly have a huge impact on our communities’ future. I am excited to participate in this event. Sharing information on lessons learned will help us all better serve the clients’ needs to create and sustain more effective environments for human health and well being.”
