FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

November 1, 2014

David Kamp, FASLA, LF, NA speaks on Stamford Hospital at HCD 2014

New York, NY – November 1, 2014 – David Kamp, FASLA, LF, NA and Principal of Dirtworks, PC will speak at Healthcare Design 2014 on November 16, 2014 in San Diego, CA. Healthcare Design 2014 is a four-day, multi-faceted learning and networking experience focused on the delivery and discussion of innovations in healthcare facilities now and into the future.

David Kamp will be presenting with Kathy Sillard, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, Stamford Hospital and Tushar Gupta, Principal at WHR Architects on the core components of the Planetree model and how they can be incorporated into the design of a patient-centered environment such as Stamford Hospital.

The sustainable site design by Dirtworks, PC, incorporates shade trees, native landscaping, a rain garden and bioswales, pervious paving, green roofs and terraces, as well as storm water gardens that connect to the larger watershed. Bike and pedestrian paths will traverse the grounds and connect the hospital to the surrounding neighborhoods.
